

RBI GRADE B EXAM

6 MONTHS

DAY WISE

STUDY PLAN

01

About this Plan

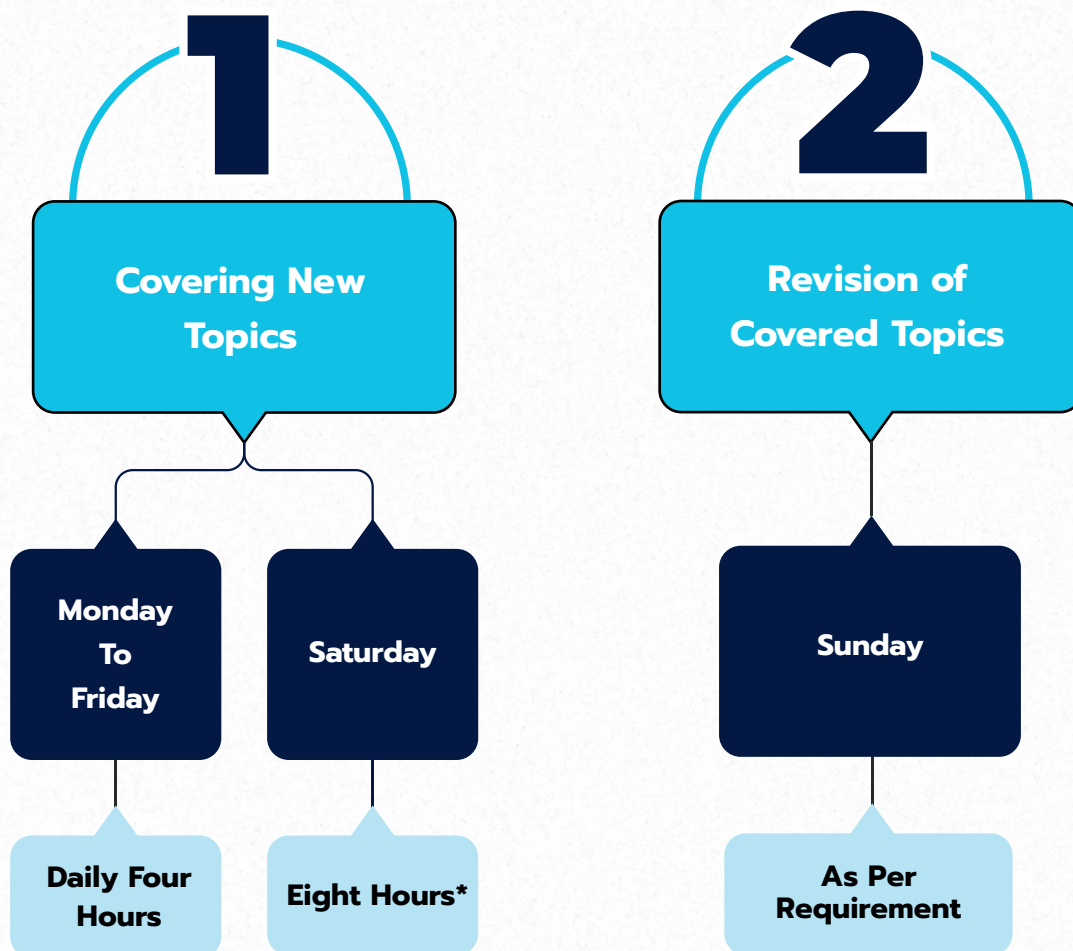

1. About this Plan

RBI Grade B is one of the most prestigious banking exam in India. To crack this exam, you need to prepare comprehensively and consistently. This practical 6 Month Study Plan will help you in meeting both these requirements as:

1. It will help you in covering the detailed syllabus of RBI Grade B exam for both Phase 1 and Phase 2.
2. The component-wise, week-wise, and day-wise schedule will help you in maintaining the much-required consistency in preparation.

1.1 Overview of the Plan

In this plan we are utilizing all 7 days in the week in following manner:

- The overall Study plan and the study plan for each component therein is starting from Monday. So, you can start this plan from Monday of any week.
- In this study plan priority is given to the topics based on the detailed analysis of Previous year papers. Color coding is used to differentiate different Topics on the basis of their priority:

01

Green Color

Important Topics to be covered on priority

Yellow Color

Topics that can be covered quickly without going into much depth

02

03

Pink Color

Part of Syllabus but less important as not much questions have been asked in the previous years

Red Color

Avoidable as

- Although they are part of syllabus but questions are not asked from it in past years
 - It is not part of the syllabus and given for understanding purpose only
- *You can cover them if you have extra time

04

1.2 Basic Principles of this Study Plan

- Integrated Plan for both Phase 1 and Phase 2 of RBI Grade B Exam
- Follow 2 – Components daily in 2 shifts
- Focus on Regular Revision of covered syllabus on weekly basis
- Covering Complete Syllabus of RBI Grade B before release of Notification

1.3 What can you expect from this study plan?

- Subject Prioritization: It helps you to cover all subjects within the given time period, considering the different phases of the exam.
- Time Management: The plan allocates time for each study session component wise, giving you a structured short term, medium term, and long-term routine.
- Revision: Sunday Revision will boost your memory and help remember everything more effectively.

1.5 Common Doubts

Doubt 1

What if I am starting this plan when less than 6-month time is left before the release of notification?

Solution

Don't worry, even if you are starting this study plan late, you will be able to complete this plan. The reasons are:

- There are 13 weeks given for preparing the Current Affairs. So, even if you are starting late, you can cover the required current affairs by pacing up the tempo in the end weeks.
- In this Study plan, there is a few weeks buffer given in the end for revision. You can utilize that time for meeting the overall timeline in case you are lagging behind the schedule.
- As every Sunday is allocated for revision in the 9 Month Study plan, you can utilize some portion of Sunday for covering left over Topics.
- This plan is till the release of RBI Grade B notification. So, you will be having time to cover up things after the release of notification as well.

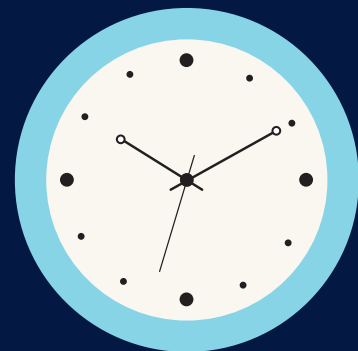

Doubt 2

What if I am not able to devote 8 hours on Saturday?

Solution

Well, that is true for many aspirants, especially if they are working professionals. In that case:

- They should plan to meet a week wise timeline of 28 hours as per their comfort.
- They can utilize some part of Sunday in meeting the Saturday 8-hour timeline and then revise in the leftover time on Sunday.

Doubt 3

What if I do not want to follow the sequence of components given in this plan?

Solution

NO BOUNDATIONS: You can break the sequence of different Components.

- For example, In this plan we begin with Management & Reasoning, then move on to Finance & Quant. If you're already comfortable with reasoning & Management, feel free to start another component.

Doubt 4

What if I end up devoting more time on complex Topics?

Solution

Yes, we agree on that. So, in that case you can modify the timeline to finish Topics. You can finish a topic faster or slower than based on its complexity.

- You should aim to modify your pace to match the overall component timeline.
- There is also a few weeks buffer given in the end for revision. You can utilize that time for meeting the overall timeline.
- Also, you will be having time to cover up things after the release of notification as well.

Doubt 5

Can I trust this plan?

Solution

More than trust, it is about your intention that matters. This plan is a foolproof plan followed by more than 10000 aspirants in the past.

Doubt 6

Is this common plan for Phase 1 & Phase 2?

Solution

Yes, this is integrated plan making you exam ready for both Phase 1 & Phase 2 of RBI Grade B Exam.

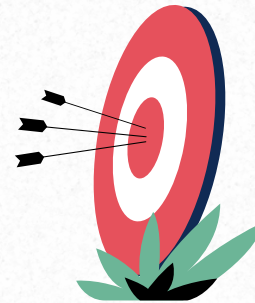

Doubt 7

Is 6 – Month enough to prepare for RBI Grade B Exam?

Solution

Clearing the RBI Grade B exam in 6 months can be a challenging task, but it is definitely possible with the correct approach and right study plan.

02

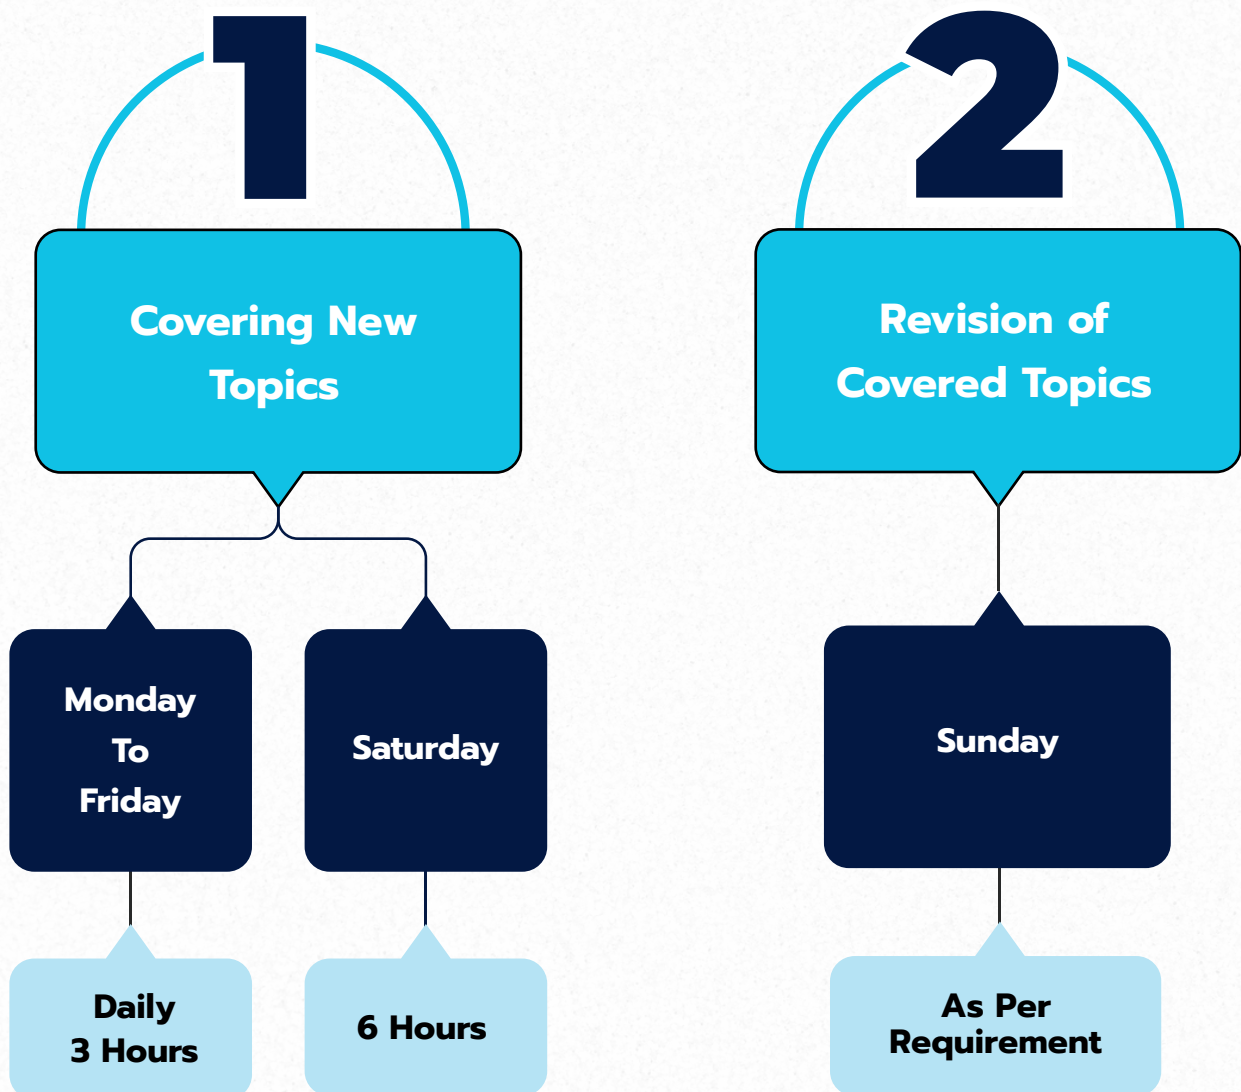

Study Plan for Management

2. Study Plan for Management

Management component is the most scoring component of Phase 2. It is easy to understand, and its scope is limited as it is a plain static component without any current affairs. One needs to take care of revising it multiple times as being a theoretical component retention can be a problem.

Study Plan for Logical Reasoning

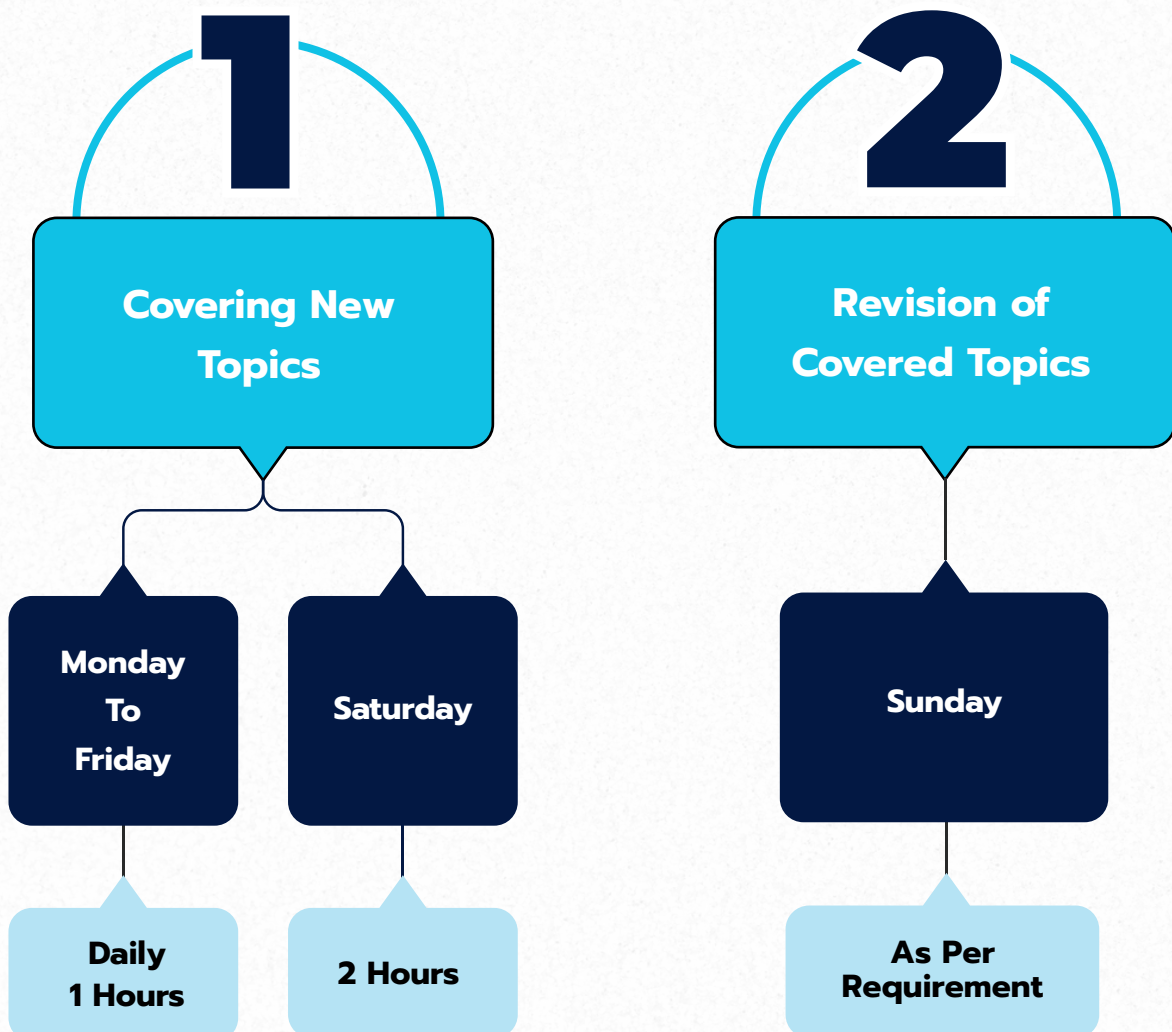

3. Study Plan for Logical Reasoning

Historically, the quantitative section of the exam has been challenging. However, students should not be disheartened by its difficulty. Consider this challenge as an unexpected advantage, as this component primarily serves a qualifying purpose. Scoring a modest 15-20 marks can suffice.

- 'Puzzles and Sitting Arrangements' have high weightage in the exam. Many aspirants plan to cover just these topics but that is a risky proposition as solving these questions can be really time consuming and sometimes the aspirants are not able to solve questions on puzzles and sitting arrangements in the real exam.
- Remember this: Your Goal is not to solve 60/60 Questions rather aim is to solve 15-20 questions with 100% accuracy. You must also learn the Art of Picking up the right questions in the exam.

Study Plan for Economic and Social Issues

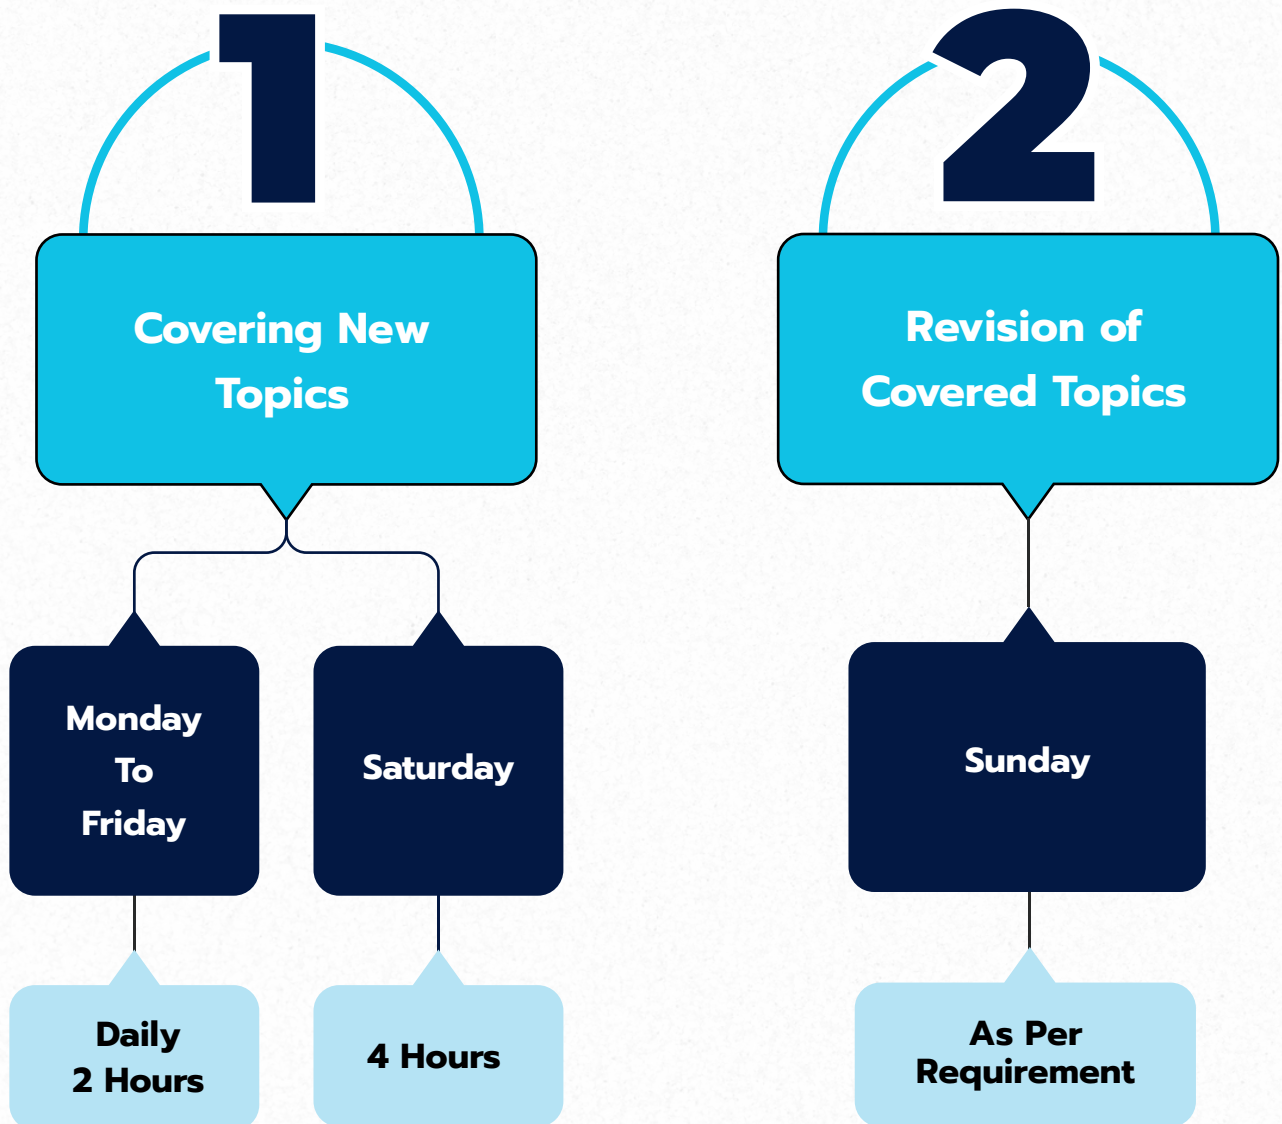

6. Study Plan for Economic and Social Issues

Historically, the ESI examination has maintained a focus on current affairs, attributing a significant weightage to this aspect in contrast to static topics.

- Therefore, it's crucial to approach ESI Topics with the understanding that mere comprehension of these Topics won't suffice for achieving a high score. The examination predominantly features questions rooted in current affairs. While studying, aim to cover these Topics within a defined timeframe, refraining from excessive immersion into intricate concepts.

Study Plan for Current Affairs

9. Study Plan for Current Affairs

Current affairs are one of the most talked about component among aspirants because of its vast nature. The vastness of current affairs along with their factual nature make them really a tough nut to crack. The only mantra to excel in current affairs is to keep revising and attempt lot of MCQs to have better retention.

9.1 Important Guidelines

In this plan we are utilizing all 7 days in the week in following manner:

- For Phase 1 of the RBI Grade B Examination, it is desirable that you should cover the Current Affairs of 5 Months before the Phase 1 Exam and for Phase 2 you should cover the Current Affairs of 6 Months before the Phase 2 Exam.
 - As we are assuming the notification to be released by February 2024, Phase 1 exam is expected to be in April 2024 and Phase 2 exam in May 2024, then you have to start reading the Current Affairs from the month of December 2023.
 - In case there is a delay in Notification then you should start from later months.
 - In case you do not have enough time to read the Current Affairs compilations and mocks of 5 months before the phase 1 examination, you should cover the Current Affairs of latest 3 Months before exam on priority.
 - You should start covering Current Affairs from 1st January 2024. However, there can be 2 scenarios:

Scenario

You have Reached the Current Affairs Component before or on 1st January 2024.

Action Point

You are advised to revise the covered components (Management, Finance, Quant etc.) and avoid started covering Current Affairs till 1st January 2024.

How to proceed

You have to start reading Current Affairs from 1st January 2024.

- You should start from the Current Affairs of December 2023.
- You should start covering the week wise week Current Affairs of December Month.
- For example: Starting in 1st of January you should cover the Current Affairs of the 1st and 2nd week of December y 2nd week of January.
- In case you have some time left after covering week wise Current Affairs, then utilize that time for revision of covered portion.

Scenario

You have Reached the Current Affairs Component after 1st January 2024.

Action Point

You are required to pace up the coverage and has to cover the current affairs starting from December 2023 in such a manner that you should be able to complete Current affairs of February month as on 31st March 2023.

How to proceed

For example: You have reached the Current Affairs component on 15th February 2023. Then you should try to cover the Current Affairs of December Month by 1st March 2024, January by 16th March 2024 and February by 31st March 2024.
